

DEAN F. WOLFE BIOGRAPHY

Dean F. Wolfe began his stand-up comedy career in the eighties in San Francisco. He performed at the Punchline, Catch a Rising Star, Rooster T. Feathers, Tommy T's, and The Holy City Zoo; toured throughout California and Western States as well as New England; and opened for Robin Williams in San Francisco. He moved to Los Angeles in 1998 where he has written for The Late Late Show with Craig Kilborn, and feature films including Devious Beings and Mob Hysteria.

Dean was recently a finalist at the 2007 First Annual California Comedy Festival in Los Angeles. He was selected from over 140 comics who competed in this competition. Also in Los Angeles, he has performed at The Improv, The Icehouse, The Laugh Factory and The Comedy Store. He is also part of the Rebels of Comedy troupe and Heavy Hitters of Comedy.

As an actor, he has appeared on Dick Wolf's Dragnet, Chicken Soup for the Soul, and Jerry Bruckheimers' Soldier of Fortune. His writing credits include two pilots as well as TV Guide editorials and nationally syndicated cartoons.

Dean prides himself with being politically incorrect, intelligent and original. Dean feels that comedy and laughter are what's really missing from today's society (along with the middle class of course); and they can cure a sick heart - but hospitals just don't pay comedians very well, and the accommodations smell funny.